Monday 19th May 2008

Electronic trading service RI3K has won three more Acord Awards.

The company scooped the best international implementation, shared service and/or infrastructure platform middleware and early adopter awards at the ceremony in Las Vegas. RI3K won six Acord Awards last year.

Alex Letts, RI3K's chief executive, said: "This continued recognition of RI3K's achievements in standardisation of trading is now reflected by the fact that nearly 200 companies are now trading in a way that was unimaginable three years ago."
